

Section	Information
1. Program Name	Bachelor's Degree in Economics
2. Short Description	The Economics program explores the essence of economic processes, the management of economic activities, the efficient allocation of resources, and the principles of market relations. Students gain knowledge in economic theory, macro- and microeconomics, finance, statistics, management, international economic relations, and more. Graduates can work in public and private sectors, banks and financial institutions, analytical and research centers, and business structures as economists, analysts, financial specialists, or managers.
3. Program Objectives	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To teach students the fundamentals of economic theory and the principles governing modern economic processes; • To develop analytical, planning, and management skills in various areas of economics; • To identify economic problems at macro and micro levels and propose solutions; • To enhance analytical thinking and decision-making skills; • To provide knowledge and skills required for professional work in state, private, and international economic structures; • To conduct scientific research and develop new approaches in economic development.
4. Teaching Process	The teaching process is based on lectures, seminars, computer labs, projects, and group work. Blended learning methods, as well as online resources, support students' independent study. Students conduct research, reading, presentations, and project preparation independently, strengthening their decision-making and professional skills for future careers.
5. Program Courses	The program consists of 240 credits. Each year, students take core and elective courses. Core Courses: Introduction to Economics, Microeconomics, Macroeconomics, Linear Algebra and Mathematical Analysis, Probability Theory and Mathematical Statistics, ICT – Basic Computer Skills, Statistics, Econometrics, Management, Economics of Social Sectors, International Economics, Development Economics, Azerbaijani Economy, Digital Economy (Sectoral Economics), Environmental Economics, History of Economic Thought, Labor Economics, Civil Defense. Elective Courses: Financial Accounting, Finance, Economic Law, Project Management, Human Resource Management, Economic Analysis, Business Administration, Non-oil Industry Economics, Regional Economics, Taxation, International Trade Operations. Graduates of Level 4 are awarded a Higher Education Diploma.
6. Sustainable	The program integrates the UN Sustainable Development Goals

Development and Social Responsibility	(SDGs). Students gain knowledge of the social and ecological aspects of economic development, responsible production and consumption, the economic impacts of climate change, and ensuring social equity. Through practical projects, students analyze the social and ecological consequences of economic decisions, preparing them as socially responsible economists guided by sustainability principles.
7. Career Opportunities	Economics is one of the core academic tracks. Graduates can work in government institutions, banks and financial organizations, insurance and investment companies, local and international business structures as economists, analysts, managers, financial specialists, customs and tax experts. They may also pursue careers in research centers, consulting firms, and international organizations.
8. Further Education	Graduates can continue their studies at the master's and doctoral levels in economic theory, finance, management, international economic relations, and other specialized fields. The program equips students with analytical thinking, research, and application skills, enabling them to build successful academic and professional careers both domestically and internationally.
9. Additional Information	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Language of Instruction: Azerbaijani and English • Duration: 4 years (full-time) • Degree Awarded: Bachelor's in Economics